Julia brings nearly two decades of experience in New Jersey politics, government relations, and issues management to Archer Public Affairs. A former Mayor of Lambertville and Vice President of Governmental Affairs at Tonio Burgos & Associates, Julia has built trusted relationships at every level of state and local government. Her work spans clean energy, land use development, and infrastructure policy—helping clients navigate complex regulatory, legislative, and public sector landscapes. As Mayor, she led Lambertville through major infrastructure and emergency management challenges while advancing fiscal responsibility and housing initiatives. Julia's deep understanding of political dynamics and her collaborative approach make her a powerful advocate for clients pursuing transformative projects across New Jersey.
